PLANNING BOARD DECLARES WAR ON ILLEGAL SIGNS

The Wilmington Planning Board Monday night told the Board of Selectmen that they intend to declare war on illegal signs, especially along Main Street.

Citing one of the more prominent stores in Wilmington Square as an offender, and many other businesses along Main Street as offenders as well, Chairman William K. Irwin declared that 'they should get a warning, and then we should slap on a few $20 fines. That would straighten them out!'

Daniel Gillis, another member of the Planning Board, who accompanied Irwin added 'We have to either keep to the rules or get rid of them', a statement to which the Selectmen agreed, and to which Chairman Nicholas De Felice added, 'Anything you want the Selectmen to do -- we will do our part --'

Irwin told the Selectmen that a sign can have only one square foot for each linear foot of property owned along the highway. In other words, Irwin explained, a business that has a frontage of say 60 feet can have a sign that is no larger than 60 square feet.

Oppose Sale

The Planning Board also opposed the sale of town owned property along Main Street to a local business. The property in question, part of the Town Park, is a 5-acre tract between Main Street and the Nashua branch of the B&MRR.

The Wilmington Ford Agency two weeks ago wrote a letter to the Selectmen asking if it would be possible to purchase the site in question.

Chairman De Felice at first sounded as though he were opposed to the ideas of the Planning Board, on this subject, but as the discussion continued he withdrew any opposition that may have been forming in his mind.

Irwin and Gillis pointed out that there is a lot of property along Main Street that is now zoned for either Industrial or General Business, and

CHARLES E. WILKINSON

Funeral services were held for the late Charles E. Wilkinson in the Old South Methodist Church, in Reading at 2pm last Monday. The services were conducted by the Rev. William Gunter, with Mrs. Angus Mathieson as organist.

Mr. Wilkinson died in the Wolfboro New Hampshire hospital on August 22nd., after a few days illness. He was 74 years old at the time of his death.

Representative Wilkinson was serving his third term in the Massachusetts Legislature, and had been very active recently as a member of the Committee on Prisons. He represented the 18th Middlesex District, comprising the towns of Reading, North Reading and Wilmington, and the City of Woburn.

He was formerly a member of the Reading Welfare Board and a Selectman of Reading.

A member of the William Sutton Lodge, A.F. & A.M. of Saugus and the Reading Royal Arch Chapter of Masons Representative Wilkinson was very active in church work, serving as charge lay leader and chairman of the official board of the Old South Methodist Church. He was also very active in Rotary, having been a member of the Reading club for some years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret (Ferguson) Wilkinson; one son, John E. Wilkinson;

TEWKSBURY BOY LEADS IN STEVEN'S MARKET BASS CONTEST

Charles Lombard, a Tewksbury High School Sophomore leads contestants in the Bass Fishing contest sponsored by Stevens Supermarket, at Silver Lake.

Lombard caught his third bass of the season Tuesday, a 12 inch fish weighing in at 15½ oz. His biggest to date is a 1 lb 6 oz fish, which measured 15 inches long.

Lombard says that he doesn't necessarily follow the advice of the books and magazines which purport to tell how to catch bass. Sometimes he handles the bait slowly, and sometimes he draws it in fast. Both ways have worked, for him in Silver Lake.

OUTSTANDING MATH INSTRUCTOR FOR WILMINGTON HIGH SCHOOL THIS YEAR

Francis Paul Kelley, who will be the mathematics instructor in Wilmington High School this year has a reputation of being one of the outstanding mathematicians of New England.

A Master of Education from Boston College, he had 36 hours of higher mathematics during his undergraduate days, and an additional 12 hours in his graduate work.

Mr. Kelley served for 14 months in the Servomechanisms Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology before taking up the teaching profession. In the laboratory he was an analyzer for the involved mathematical computations of the computing machines.

Since leaving MIT he has been an instructor in mathematics at the Thornton Academy, in Saco, Maine. Because he wanted to be nearer his home in Waltham he sought employment in Massachusetts this year.

Dudley Buck, School Committee member, and a Research Fellow at MIT was among those that have highly recommended Mr. Kelley.

THE EXTRA SCHOOL ACCOMODATIONS COMMITTEE

James B. Moore, member of the School Committee has resigned from the Extra School Accomodations Committee, or at least he has tendered his resignation, which may or may not have been accepted by this time.

Mr. Moore stated frankly that he does not have the time to put into the work of the committee. His statement to the School Committee,
a week ago last night, gives plenty of material
for some thought on the part of our Town Fathers.

The Extra School Accomodations Committee is not only responsible for locating sites suitable for schools, but for finding out if those sites are suitable in all ways. One of the results, that Mr Moore has found to be particularly timestaking, is that the members have to search titles and records, to find out who owns what land, in order that they can get permission to make test borings.

It would seem that this is a pretty big order at times. It would seem that we are perhaps asking a little too much of the members of this committee.

Mr. Moore suggested that a part-time employee should be hired to do much of the "leg-work" of the committee, a suggestion which found a greement with the School Committee members.

But Mr. Moore could find no School Committee member who wanted to take his place on the Extra School Accomodations Committee.

If the hiring of a person to do the legwork
is the best answer neither we nor anyone else
can say at this moment, but there is no doubt that there should be a change.

If there is no change there is liable to be no more committee, and for Wilmington in this time of growth that could be disastrous.

VACCINES AND EPIDEMICS

Wilmington has had a good year, with relation to Polio. So far as we know there have been absolutely no cases, for which we probably can thank the Salk Vaccine.

But good fortune should not cause us to relax our vigilance.

Many of our people have had only the first two injections of the vaccine, and should have their third injection. We believe the time is now due, for a great majority of these people.

It is the third injection, we are told, that provides the greatest amount of protection.

Now that polio is becoming a thing of the past we are having a new epidemic look over the horizon - Asiatic Flu. The first Massachusetts case was reported last week.

Our local physicians advise that they can get the vaccine for this new disease, but that it is in short supply. They can order to their needs, but no more.

(The vaccine, incidentally, is prepared in chicken eggs, and the US Public Health Service advises that people who are allergic to eggs
should use caution in receiving this vaccine).

The availability of the new vaccine will depend entirely on the request of the individuals who desire it. If you plan to have the protection this vaccine offers you must let your physician know, in order that he can order it.

See your physician now, or call him on the telephone, and place your order. Next October
may be too late.

TOWN HALL HOURS

During the past several years we have had two schedules at the Town Hall, one for winter
time, and one for summer.

There was a good reason for this, at least
as far as the summer was concerned - the summer heat, which towards the end of the afternoon
made the Town Hall a very poor place to work.

The winter hours, in the Town Hall are from 9 am to 5pm. The summer hours are from 8 am to 4 pm.

But now the Town Hall is equipped with air-conditioning. The temperatures during the past months have been very comfortable.

There is no need of special hours to avoid the summer heat.

Without a doubt there was confusion on the part of citizens and others because of the changes in hours. The time has come to remove the cause of that confusion.

Let us have the same hours, summer and winter; 8 am to 4pm, or 9 am to 5 pm, it doesn't matter. It could even be from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm, - just so that it is the same the whole year round.

Unless it is a matter of baseball scores, or some other sport I'm not too good a man at remembering things. But I was taking a ride the of course) and we happened to go down to Middleton, on the other side of North Reading.

When we passed the Ipswich River, just below
the dam in North Reading I happened to remember something that was said in the Town Meeting a couple of weeks ago, so we stopped the car and I got out to have a look for myself.

You remember they said that the State Department of Health would not approve of Wilming-

Weather

A little over a quarter of an inch of rain - not enough to keep things moist, but better than nothing at all was our record for the past week, ending Sunday morning. The exact count was .29 inches, on the 20th, 21st and 22nd.

Sunday, of course, we had rain practically all day, but that report won't be in this column until next week.

Did We Cause It?

Your columnist is wondering if by any chance he cast the 'evil eye' on the new barber shop in North Wilmington.

Last week in this column we mentioned how Ralph Allen, owner of the new barbershop was being kept busy 12 hours a day cutting hair, with a waiting line in his emporium all the time.

This week Ralph hired an assistant.

You guessed it. Both men could be seen sitting in the customers chairs several times
on Monday and Tuesday.

High Riding Sheep

Bill Roberts is a 10 year old youngster who lives on Hillside Way, and is interested in 4-H activities. He won first prize at the Westford Middlesex County 4-H last weekend with some bantam pullets, and won a first, second and third prize with a sheep which he had raised. Perhaps there were other animals too, we don't know, but we do know that Bill slept every night with his animals, while at the fair.

Sunday, when the time came to take his animals home it was raining, and Bill didn't want to expose his pets to the weather, on the back of his father's truck, so he persuaded pop to use the family sedan.

The sheep was finally coaxed
into the back of the sedan,
from which the rear seat was removed, and rode home in style.

Cerise Blue

We aren't any judge of colors and maybe it isn't cerise, but the laddies down in the fire station have been wielding a mean paint brush during the past few days.

Practically everything has been painted, and most of it some shade of blue.

What we are wondering is what color will be applied to the prisoners' cells.

Joe Must Go

We aren't talking about the TM. We are talking about JH otherwise Joe Hardy, one of our local firemen.

Joe Hardy was tendered a 'Going Away Party', at the West Wilmington Community Club
just a week ago, when his fellow firemen learned that Joe is leaving shortly to study
to be a Chiropractor, at Davenport, Iowa.

The party, to all accounts
was quite a success. The entertainment was provided by Mrs.
Amy Rhine of Woburn Street,
and Peter K. K. Morse, both well known in the entertainment world.

that they felt that the time had come to call a halt to any more rezoning.

'We paid good money for that (zoning) plan' Gillis said, - 'Let's keep it that way for a while'.

Irwin pointed out that the Planning Board had refused to sell some property to a veteran's organization, and they couldn't see why they should have to sell to a private business.

He also reminded the Selectmen that a group of citizens had opposed a proposed change on another portion of Main Street. In this section there were no residents to oppose, so the Planning Board felt that the problem devolved squarely upon their own shoulders.

Irwin further stated that there were already enough lots of land on Main Street with a lot of second-hand cars for sale, and he could see no need for more of them.

He left no doubt in the Selectmen's minds as to his opposition, but as the result of questions by Mr De Felice he added that the Planning Board would of course be willing to talk over the problem with the would-be purchaser, and that it could change its mind in the future, if a particularly desirable industry should want that particular piece of land.

ENROLLMENT JUMPS AS SCHOOLS PREPARE TO OPEN

Indications are that the Wilmington Public Schools will have an overflowing crowd of students, when they open on September fourth for the new school year.

School authorities had anticipated that about 50 late arrivals would register Tuesday, and a total of 99 new pupils were registered at that time.

WILMINGTON'S CIVIL DEFENSE COORDINATES WITH CIVIL AIR PATROL

Wilmington's Civil Defense had the first of what is intended to be a series of air-ground coordination drills, with officials of the Tewksbury Civil Air Patrol, on Sunday.

Civil Defense Director Rene Larivee pronounced the drill to be a success in spite of some minor mishaps.

Members of the Radio team, and the Ground Observation Corps participated, as did a number of members of the CAP under command of Capt. Capt. De Marius, CAP, of Tewksbury.

Harvey Hudson and Mel Cassidy of the GOC manned the Wilmington Observation Tower while Lieut. Lazarro, CAP of Waltham and Cadet Eddie Ribetski of Woburn (son of Julian Ribetski, and a member of an old Wilmington family) manned the airplane which flew predetermined courses through Wilmington in order to test the observation of the sky-watchers, and give them a better idea of the distances involved.

Also tested was radio communication through the area. Several spots were found to be 'dead spots' for communication from air to ground.

Included in the tests was a mobile radio in the car of Ch. Radio Officer Ted Daly, and another radio station on Strout Avenue, manned by Bill Hooper.

Larivee stated after the drill that one of the purposes was to practice directing a plane which might be called on to search wooded areas, in Wilmington or Tewksbury, for lost people.

B&M WANTS TO FILL IN BALLARDVALE STREET BRIDGE

The Boston & Maine Railroad has proposed to fill in, under the bridge on Ballardvale St., that bridged the former Salem Lowell Railroad.

Their plans, exhibited at the Selectmen's meeting Monday evening, would lower the grade of the street, as well as to fill in below the bridge.

Approval was given by the Selectmen with the proviso that all proposals be approved by the Town Engineer.

MISS EDITH PAPPADOPOULOS, A NATIVE OF GREECE, TO TEACH IN WILDWOOD SCHOOL

Miss Edith Pappadopoulos, a native of Sparta, Greece, will be teaching in the Wildwood School this fall, her first teaching position since graduating from the Lowell Teacher's College. She has had teacher training in both Lowell and Acton.

Miss Pappadopoulos left her native land in 1947, and has worked in Lowell, in the International Institute, as an interpreter and translator of Greek. She was highly regarded in the Institute.

After 6½ years of interpreting she determined to become a teacher, and entered the Lowell Teacher's College.

NEW WILDWOOD SCHOOL TEACHER HAS MILITARY BACKGROUND

Miss Dorothy C. Nylin of North Reading, who is to teach the third grade in the Wildwood School this year is a former Physical Therapist in the US Army who has seen service in Korea.

She spent four years in the Women's Medical Specialist Corps, one year of which was spent in the Cushing Army Hospital in Massachusetts, one year with the Army of Occupation in Korea, and two years in the William Beaumont Army Hospital, in Waco Texas. At the time of her discharge she was a First Lieutenant.

Miss Nylin comes to Wilmington from the public schools of West Newbury, where she taught the fourth grade.

She is a graduate of the Bouve-Boston School, an affiliate of Tufts College, and has studied at Boston University, the Boston Museum School and Salem Teacher's College.

a quick service

the Wilmington Methodist Church will be the morning preacher at the worship service on Sunday, Sept 1, at 9 am. Mr Wood joins with his wife, Ruth, in celebrating thirty years of membership in the Wilmington Methodist church have joined together the first Sunday in September, 1927. His message will be based on Jesus words following his baptism which are found in the fourth chapter of Matthew, 'Repent for the Kingdom of God is at hand.'

Miss Yolandi Moe will sing the familiar hymn 'In The Garden' during the service accompanied by Mrs Raymond Gardner, summer organist at the church. Parents are again reminded that a nursery class for small children is available during the worship hour at the church parsonage and are invited to worship with their older child while the children attend the nursery. The members and friends of the church who have been able to use the service during the summer express their appreciation to the many persons who gave of their time to make the nursery hour possible.

CONGREGATIONAL NEWS

The last of the summer worship services will be held next Sunday morning at 9:30 am. This will be a Communion service, and Mr Donald Tibbets will commence his year's work of internship as full time assistant to the minister.

On Sept 8th Family Sunday will be observed, with a single worship service at 11 o'clock, at which time parents and children will worship together in the sanctuary. On Sept 15th the church will return to its winter schedule of two morning services, at 9:30 and 11, and the Church School will hold its first session.

CHURCH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT SUPERINTENDENTS TO MEET

The Superintendents of the Church School of the Wilmington Methodist Church will meet with the general superintendent, Wm Russell on Friday evening, Aug 29 at the church. Plans will be completed for the fall program and methods of pre-registration will be established.

The Masonic Hall will have to be used again this year to house part of the growing church school as the new church building will not be available until next spring. Parents are reminded that all children who will be three years of age by Dec 31, 1957 are eligible for enrollment in the church school. A nursery class for children under three will also be available to children under three this coming year.

A general meeting of all the church school teachers will be called before the opening of the school for the fall program. The opening date is Sept 15. A convocation for all church school teachers on the Lynn District will be held the following Sunday, Sept 22 in the Melrose Methodist Church. One thousand church school teachers are expected to be in attendance.

WEST STREET MIXUP GETS STRAIGHTENED OUT

The long standing question of what is to happen to about 25 feet of land, off West Street, owned by John Christopher was apparently settled to every one's satisfaction, in the Selectmen's meeting Monday night. Mr Christopher owns land that abuts the proposed cutoff of West Street, just north of Nickerson Avenue.

The town, several years ago voted to lay a water main along the curve, and then rescinded its vote, and voted to cut across through the swamp in a straight line.

An easement was obtained from Mrs. Harold Fay, over property she owns, and at the same time one was presumably filed for the small portion of the right of way owned by Christopher.

A further development of the plan was to be a straightening of the street itself, over the same area, by the County Commissioners.

Christopher, who attended the Selectmen's meeting related a tale of successive oversights on the part of various officials of the town, a point that Town Manager Joseph Courtney readily conceded.

Mr Christopher was apparently never given any official notice of any sort concerning his property.

The only thing he knew was that over a period of years engineers had surveyed and staked out the land, then bulldozers had come and destroyed a flower garden, knocking all the loam down into the nearby swamp.

When the contractor who was laying the new pipe came along Mr. Christopher stopped the work, because of the inattention given to them.

Christopher reiterated that he had no desire to stop people from getting water - he just wanted to know where he stood.

The discussion ended with an agreement that a letter would be written stating that after the water main had been laid Christopher's land would be restored to its former condition.

READING LIGHT MAY HAVE TO CHARGE FOR BROKEN STREET LIGHTS

Chairman Nicholas De Felice of the Board of Selectmen told the Board, Monday night, that the Reading Municipal Light Department is considering a change in its method of charging for electric light street service in Wilmington.

Because so many bulbs are broken in Wilmington the light company is considering charging for all replacement bulbs, over six, in any calendar year for any particular street light.

As Mr De Felice related it, the boys in Wilmington break many more light bulbs with 'BB' guns than do the boys in the other three towns served by the Municipal Light Dept., a report that led the irrepressible Frank Hagerty to joke that 'That's because the boys in Wilmington are better shots!'

De Felice either did not understand what Hagerty had said or chose to ignore the humor, for he seriously told Hagerty that there are some lights in Wilmington that have to be replaced twenty-five times a year.

THIEVES DRILL HOLES IN DOOR TO LOOT STEVENS MARKET

An undetermined amount of merchandise is missing, as the result of a night robbery at Steven's Market, last Sunday night.

Well equipped burglars forced an entry through a door on the Silver Lake Betterment side of the supermarket.

The burglars first attempted to force the door-knob type lock, with a sharp instrument, and then drilled a series of holes, interlocking, above the lock knob, and cut the lock with a pair of powerful snippers.

AVCO SHOCK TUBE RESEARCH HAS PRODUCED THEORETICAL BREAKTHROUGH ON 5000-MILE AIR FORCE BALLISTIC MISSILE

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- A major theoretical breakthrough on the 5000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile program has now been made, it was disclosed today by the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division (ARDC) and Dr. Lloyd P. Smith, president of the Research and Advanced Development Division of Avco Manufacturing Corp.

Until the Avco Research Laboratory began its shock tube experiments, little was known about the field of super-speeds and super-temperatures. But creation of shock waves in the laboratory, to duplicate re-entry effects, has led to the theoretical shortcut that permitted nose cone design to go ahead rapidly before actual flight test information was available.

It was recently disclosed that Avco had been awarded a contract for $111,308,359 for development of the Titan nose cone.

For the past two years Avco scientists have been feeding nose cone "re-entry" information into the ICBM program, to speed development of Titan and other Air Force long-range ballistic missiles. This has been experimental shock tube data on the high speeds and high temperatures to be encountered when an ICBM crashes into the earth's dense atmosphere. Shock tube experiments and Air Force flight tests with Lockheed's X-17 re-entry test vehicle have been the principal sources of such data. The rocket-powered research missile has been making successful high-speed descents with models of nose cone shapes.

"This means that our intense work of the past two years has brought a breakthrough in developing the heat transfer theory needed to design a nose cone that can re-enter the earth's atmosphere after a 5000-mile flight without burning up", Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz, director of the Avco Research Laboratory stated.

Prototypes of the nose cone embodying these critically important theoretical breakthroughs have been constructed, and the "hardware program" based on the breakthroughs is progressing satisfactorily.

The re-entry problem, generally regarded as one of the most difficult in the entire ICBM project, has been to find a way to keep the nose cone from burning to a cinder as it plunges to earth with its hydrogen bomb warhead at speeds of thousands of miles an hour. The kinetic energy possessed by the nose cone and warhead as it re-enters the atmosphere will be equal to that of a fully loaded freight train 4 miles long traveling at 60 miles per hour. All this energy must be dissipated as heat for a successful re-entry.
